Susie Stewart has a smart topeout of beaver or nutria which is very hehat is of black felt and rather severely The Stewart girls are all so attractive I don't know which one I could say I like best. I believe I like them all the same, Susje and Maisie

THE Newbold tea was a very smart Laffair on Saturday afternoon, Anna was beautifully gowned in a French frock which she got on the other side in the summer. I suppose. It was a levely thing of white tulle embroidered in light blue, and at either side of the waist line there were blue streamers. I do think the girls' dresses are the weetest things this season.

Mrs. Crothers was, before her marriage a few weeks ago. guests before the dance itself that night. guests before the dance itself that night, and then about 300 were asked to the dance.

Miss Ruth McClung entertained the junior members of the Woman's Club of Swarthmore at her home on Harvard avenue last week.

THEAR that Vivien Gould Decies has I decided to stay over in New York with her father, Mr. Gould, until after for him. Lady Decies came over from England on the receipt of the cabe telling of her mother's death last month and has been staying with her father since then. She will go back to her faulty the last of the month, but is planning to return in the late spring with her husband and children, and they will then spend the summer with Mr. Gould.

Mrs. G. Whitner Rogers, of 325 East Fornance street, entertained at an aftermoon tea at her home. Mrs. Rogers was assisted in receiving by her sister Miss Marjoris Marcy, of Riverton. N. J. Townley Largetere presided at the tea table, and Mrs. John L. Largetere and M. S. Helen Paist also assisted.

He came over last month to join his wife, who has been staying with her mother, Mrs. Vanderbilt, and Miss her sister Mrs. Harry Payne Whitney, daugh Flora Payne Whitney Tower and Roderick Tower, who are living out in the West, have a baby? It's about three weeks old now, and they are awfully bappy about it.

Joan Whitney, Flora's sister, is to be introduced at a dance in New York on the 20th of this month. Time files so: Joan seemed such a little girl at the Tower wedding which took place about two years ago, and here she is a debutante.

THE baby is now two and a half years of age and as cute and cunning as she can be. Also she is very independent. She does not like a helping hand held out to her, she prefer to fall if need be, but fall she will of her own accord. The other day she was playing in the nursery and strove to pull out a box filled high with blocks. Uncle Joe, who was on the floor with her, essayed to carry the box but fixing him with a cold and clear glance of the eye, the baby remarked in a well-modulated and perfectly correct tone; "No, thank you, I can do it myse!f." Pop was reading the spoarting page in the setting room and I was looking all erround for a chocklit peppermint that I forgot wat I did with, saying. Hay pop did you see enything of a chocklit peppermint?

A chocklit peppermint in sutch an nimportant thing in my life that I could proberly pass a hole window full without remembering it, so you can judge wat impression the site of meerly one chocklit peppermint would leeve on my mind, sed pop.

Meening no he hadent saw it, and I kepp on hunting, saying, G, thats funny. I know its in this room some wares, its certeny funny, are you sure you dident see it pop? It was a grate big flat one about 2 inteles wide, I sed. How can I reed with you throwing hocklit peppermints all over the place, keep quiet, sed pop.

And he kepp on reeding and I kepp on hunting, and all of a suddin I remembered wat I did with it, saying, G op, have you got your slippers on?
I have, have you eny objections?
ed pop, and I sed, Yes sir but I gess

Wats too late, wat the dickins are you tawking about? sed pop, and I sed. Well you see I think I put that chocklit peppermint in one of your slippers, In I know I did because Im sure

Suffering cats, I havent the hart to look, sed pop. And he put one foot up and started to feel one slipper with his hand, saying. Theres something in there all rite, I knew I had a funny sensation in that foot, confound it, wat do you sunt to go erround putting candies in

Well I had a good reason wen I put Wich jest then pop took his slipper off the street and then summoned the fire-and the chocklit peppermint was men.

Squashed down in the bottom of it all Dominick Ozaska, a brother of Wilout of its original shape and size, and pop sed, Blast it all, look at my slipper,

WILL BUILD NEW SCHOOL

Glenolden and Norwood to Join in Erecting Building

The school districts and the School Directors of Glenolden and Norwood have decided to build for their exclusive use a high school building, which, according to the agreement, is to be known as the "Glen-Nor" High School." A site has been selected in Ridley Township, which is between Norwood and Glenoiden and between the Pennsylvania and Baltimore Rail roads and close to what is known as Trites and Urban avenues.

The State Department has approved of both the plan and location of the new school building.
